PLANTATION OF MEDICINAL PLANTS

A group of ordinary people extraordinarily determined to protect the environment, not just by themselves, but also by sensitizing others towards the importance of environment conservation and inspiring/ motivating them on to participate in tree-plantation campaigns. We organize tree plantations and drive various initiatives across many villages and cities in Uttar Pradesh. We proactively engage in identifying potential areas for plantation, keeping in mind the biodiversity and ecological milieu of the local area. We try to ensure that the local communities reap multifold benefits; besides restoring the green cover, the trees also provide them with fruits, flowers, leaves etc. commonly used in the daily life. Our mission is to sensitize and empower people to return to nature and live in an environment conducive to their health and well-being. Trees inspires citizens to spare just a few hours on weekends and work towards making their cities, and their lives greener. NGO's understanding its responsibility the society has organized a number of programmes targeted at the welfare of the SC/ST/OBC/Alp's providing them technical and financial help in setting up their own business and pursuing higher studies.

In the context of the downtrodden communities from where these students originate, the breakthrough achievement of our project "Aao Chalen School- An Open School" lies in the palpable confidence with who were meek earlier, children, now unhesitatingly express their opinions, able to perform songs, dance, poems, explained experiments, and raised voices louder than their parents in their oath that they'll demand education for themselves as their birth right.

This is our dream – to give voice to the voiceless, inculcating voices in silent marginalized disconnected communities’ right from the beginning, with the hope that one day they will become active citizens of the nation. When you write down on a piece of paper, you are ten times more likely to remember it. Most of us have been surrounded by books, notebooks, papers, etc. since our younger days.

From drawing a house with a tree in the lawn to noting down numbers, from playing tick-tac-tow on the back pages of a notebook to practicing our signature, from creating paper-rockets to writing down plans to make an actual rocket, the humble paper is a basic need that was always fulfilled for us – the more fortunate lot. We identified that this basic need of a student should be fulfilled and must not remain a luxury for them. This gave birth to our project an initiative to distribute notebooks and stationery items to students who cannot afford it.

The project involves identifying students in schools and localities, visiting such schools and distributing the notebooks and stationery items. Apart from notebooks, we distribute pencils and also pens for 1st to 5th class students. Excitement and happiness of the kids knew no bounds when they received the colourful small bags to keep pencils in.

JAN CHETNA - PUBLIC AWARENESS

Public Awareness campaigns are more successful if they are tailored to the context, values, language, and resources available to local audiences. Awareness campaign can be an important part of slum and developing community support for changes in the informal justice sector; it has been shown to change knowledge and attitudes about violence against girl child and women. The campaign will convey to the wider public the messages of tolerance, acceptance, openness, empathy and respect. The major objectives of campaign are to encourage access to education because educational awareness is a major key for the success in the area of environmental protection. In fact without a widespread culture of human rights, democracy is not by itself a guarantee of respect of human rights.
